

The Use of E.C.L.O. as a Transnational Dissemination Vehicle for E.U. Funded Projects

E.C.L.O. was created to provide an opportunity for business and academic partners to:

- Explore new ways for effective business development.
- Identify new directions for business training and development.
- Generate models and tools for implementation.
- Deliver educational programs of high academic standards.
- Strengthen effective learning and development in organisations.

It consists of European, and non European, organisations from the corporate and academic worlds as well as consultancies and the public sector. It is open to any organisation, interested and committed to explore new directions for successful business and people development, from a learning organisation perspective. Among its current members can be found :-

- Corporate – Janssen Pharmaceutica (BE); KPC Group (NL)
- Business Schools – Glasgow Caledonian University Business School (UK)
- Academic – University of Central England (UK); De Montfort University (UK)
- Public Sector – Munich Chamber of Commerce (DE); NHS Education (UK)
- Consultancies – BLV Learning Partners (FR); KIO Management Partnership (DK)
- Non European – Dragonfly Group (China); Rushall Consulting (Australia)
- Network – EFMD - European Foundation for Management Development (BE); NOCA - The Network of Corporate Academies (DK)

E.C.L.O.'s Involvement in E.U. Funded Projects

E.C.L.O. has been a partner in the following projects, which have all been sponsored or part-sponsored by the European Union (further details can be found on the E.C.L.O. website www.eclo.org).

- SME Learning Networks
- The Role of Social Dialogue in HRD in Europe (PIE)
- HRD & Lifelong Learning
- Knowledge and Learning Infrastructure (KALIF)
- Forum for European Research into Vocational Education & Training (FORUM)
- Business Gaming Methods for Developing Competence in Knowledge Management (KITS)
- Learning Empowerment of Project Team Workers (POWERTEAM)
- European Corporate Universities and Academies Network (ECUANET)
- The Role of Mobile Technologies in European Learning
- Validation InstrumentS as Innovative Basis for Non-formal Learning Evaluation (VISIBLE)
- Using Wireless Technologies for Context Sensitive Education and Training

What Value Proposition Can E.C.L.O. Offer?

- Distribution via email to E.C.L.O. members, E.C.L.O. network partners and our extended contacts accumulated since inception (in excess of 1,000 organisations worldwide)
- A dedicated webpage on the E.C.L.O. website www.eclo.org and/or a link from the E.C.L.O. website to the project website
- Publication of project deliverables in E.C.L.O.'s quarterly "Learner" newssheet.
- Opportunity to present project deliverables at E.C.L.O.'s annual conference or at one of their "Regional Seminars".
- Opportunity to exhibit project deliverables for the duration of E.C.L.O.'s annual conference
- Organisation and management of a dedicated project workshop and/or conference by E.C.L.O.'s experienced Events and Conference team
- Presentation at E.C.L.O.'s Annual General Meeting and/or E.C.L.O.'s Executive Board
- Validation of proposed models and tools by E.C.L.O.'s Academic and Professional Practices Board
- Membership of E.C.L.O. for all partner organisations

The Project Cost of Providing This Dissemination Opportunity

All of the above facilities are automatically available to E.C.L.O. members and as such, E.C.L.O. will provide this capability to any E.U. Funded project if the project becomes an E.C.L.O. non profit making member. The annual cost of this category of membership is €1,000.

E.C.L.O. Contact Information

Jim Jack (E.C.L.O. Treasurer)

Venelle des Lauriers, 8
1300 Wavre
Belgium

Telephone +32 (0)10 24 16 00
Email info@eclo.org
Website www.eclo.org